

Abdu Murray is a speaker, author, and attorney who specializes in addressing issues where religious faith and emerging cultural trends intersect and collide. Since founding Embrace the Truth in 2004, Abdu has spent decades analyzing how the major religious and non-religious thought traditions have attempted to address emerging cultural issues.

He has written five books, including:

Fake ID
More than a White Man's Religion
Saving Truth
Grand Central Question
Apocalypse Later

His articles have been featured in Fox News, Christianity Today, Washington Times, Christian Post, and Western Journal.

Murray has tackled complex issues in Q&A forums, debates, and dialogues at leading universities such as Yale, Berkeley, MIT, University of Michigan, University of Florida, Laurentian University, San Marcos University, Universidad Cientifica del Sur, and others around the world. He has also addressed political and business leaders in countries such as the United States, Canada, Peru, and Hong Kong. Mr. Murray hosts the podcast and YouTube shows, All Rise, Deliberations LIVE, and CouldaShouldaWoulda. His YouTube videos have been viewed millions of times across the globe.

While an attorney at two major law firms in Detroit, he was named to Best Lawyers in America and to Michigan Super Lawyers. Murray lives in the Metro Detroit area with his wife and their three children.

BOOKS

Fake ID – How AI and Identity Ideology Are Collapsing Reality—and What to Do About It. David C. Cook, 2026

As artificial intelligence and gender ideology accelerate a cultural crisis of truth, this timely and incisive book exposes the collapse of reality—and invites readers to recover a coherent, time-tested vision of what's real and worth preserving. In an age of identity crisis, Fake ID anchors us to reality by compassionately offering logical, scientific, and moral clarity through the lens of Scripture's enduring wisdom.

More than a White Man's Religion - Why the Gospel Has Never Been Merely White, Male-Centered, or Just Another Religion. Zondervan, 2022

Though many today accuse Christianity of being a white, imperialistic religion, it is actually the source for cherished Western ideals of racial and gender equality. Without overlooking the places where Christianity has failed to live up to its own ideals, More Than a White Man's Religion tackles head-on one of the most serious challenges to the Christian faith in our multicultural age and demonstrates how the gospel can inspire positive change for modern culture.

Saving Truth - Finding Meaning and Clarity in a Post-Truth World. Zondervan, 2018

Increasingly, Western culture has mistaken the quest for autonomy with the pursuit of freedom. Accordingly, appeals to feelings and preferences have prevailed over claims based on facts and truth. This cultural phenomenon led the compilers of the Oxford English Dictionary to name "post-truth" their word of the year in 2016. It's popularity and relevance has only increased since then. By accurately describing the Culture of Confusion and how it has affected our society, Saving Truth seeks to awaken Westerners to the plight they find themselves in.

Grand Central Question - Answering the Critical Questions of the Major Worldviews. InterVarsity Press, 2014

Christians long to share the Gospel with those who hold different worldviews, only to find themselves ill equipped to answer such peoples' deepest questions. As a result, Christians shrink away from fulfilling the Great Commission. Grand Central Question (a) explains that each of the major worldviews tries to address a particular, focal issue and (b) shows that the Gospel addresses these genuine issues in intelligent and emotionally satisfying ways.

Apocalypse Later - Why the Gospel of Peace Must Trump the Politics of Prophecy in the Middle East. Kregel Publications, 2009

Many evangelicals have used the ongoing conflict in the Middle East as fodder for debates over how to interpret prophecy, instead of seeing it as the human tragedy that it is. In Apocalypse Later, former Muslim Abdu Murray urges Christians to change their focus from eschatology to the Gospel of Jesus Christ and equips Christians to demonstrate to non-believers that the Gospel, and the Gospel alone, provides credible answers to the deepest questions that come from conflict.
